A lasting finish begins before the coating.

Every concrete floor is different. A professional plan starts with the condition of the slab—not only the color you want on top.

01

Evaluate the concrete

Existing coatings, contaminants, moisture, cracks and surface condition all affect the preparation and product plan.

02

Prepare the surface

Mechanical surface preparation and careful cleaning create the profile a coating system needs to bond properly.

03

Address repairs

Cracks, pits and damaged areas are reviewed before coating. Your proposal should explain the planned repairs and their limits.

04

Build the system

Primer or base coat, decorative flake and clear topcoat are selected as a compatible system for the space and expected use.

ASK BEFORE WORK BEGINS

How will the floor be prepared? What repairs are included? Which coating layers will be used? When can people, storage and vehicles return to the garage?

Color, flake and texture work together.

Decorative flake brings variation and visual depth to the floor. Compare blends in the space and alongside the cabinets, slatwall and lighting.

PLAN THE LOOK

- View physical samples; screens and photographs shift color.
- Consider how the blend relates to cabinet, wall and vehicle colors.
- Discuss traction and cleaning needs for the way you use the room.
- Confirm where the coating will stop at doors, steps and adjoining spaces.

BEFORE YOU CHOOSE

Ask to see current samples in person. The final appearance varies with the concrete, application, flake broadcast and lighting. We use PPG and Sherwin-Williams coating products with Torginol decorative flakes, then confirm the selected system in your proposal.

YOUR PROJECT, CLEARLY PLANNED

LET'S TALK ABOUT YOUR GARAGE FLOOR.

We will look at the concrete, talk through the finish and explain what the work will involve. You can also coordinate the floor with custom cabinets, slatwall and overhead storage.
